

Courses Taught: International Economic Development Policy, Topics in Economic Research, Development Economics (Reader), Labor Economics (Reader)

Courses Available to Teach: Development Economics, Labor Economics, Applied Micro, Applied Econometrics, Economics of Education

Teaching Evaluation Scores

	Teaching Evaluations Scores
	Stephanie	Dept. Avg.
Overall effectiveness of TA	6.47	5.98
Overall effectiveness of course	6.00	5.90
Well-organized lectures and uses class time effectively	6.85	6.09
Communicated ideas clearly.	6.65	6.24
Encouraged student questions and participation	6.80	6.34
Presented thought-provoking ideas; made the class stimulating	6.25	6.12

Note: Sections taught only for International Economic Development Policy.

Teaching Evaluation Comments

- Stephanie's teaching is very thorough, coherent, and she's extremely patient with us!
- Stephanie has gone over and beyond the role of an instructor. She served as the glue that held the class together, trying to integrate the important aspects of each lecture so that we can make better sense of the bigger picture.
- She prepares materials that really consider the understanding of lecture materials, and she's really eager to help.
- The GSI well explained the difficult concepts of the main course materials to make sure that students understood them with ease.
- Stephanie did a great job of tying the lectures together and explaining difficult concepts patiently and clearly! I got a lot out of the discussion sections and always felt comfortable attending her office hours and engaging in the material when I had questions or concerns.
- Well-organized and concise. Students are encouraged to participate and ask questions in class.
- I appreciated that Stephanie was able to explain and walk us through concepts that weren't always clear the first time around in lecture. She also encouraged discussion during section, inviting people to participate without pressuring too much.
- I really enjoyed Stephanie as a GSI this semester. Her discussion sessions were thoughtfully organized, covered the relevant content, and engaged students using breakout rooms and discussion questions. Stephanie was flexible in her office hours and was willing to meet outside of her normally scheduled hours to help when needed. Overall, she made the class so much more accessible and enjoyable for me.

Complete teaching evaluation report here.